ASSET MANAGEMENT

When we setup Amergeris in 2011, the founders wanted to create a different kind of wealth manager that answers to real investor needs and to the important challenges that the wealth management industry is facing. By working together with our advisors the client retains ultimate control over the investment making decisions within their portfolio across a range of products, whilst also retaining access to the experience and professional advice provided by Amergeris Global Markets (UK) Ltd.

The result was a new style of wealth management: rich in tradition yet firmly geared towards modern asset management. Amergeris takes a 360-degree view of its clients' wealth and therefore has the investment banking capabilities to ensure full service. We apply multi-market and asset approaches to our asset management strategies, combining investment experience, fundamental and technical analysis to provide absolute returns.

The founders are personally involved in the day-to-day management of the group and are in close contact with the clients. Being entrepreneurs themselves, we are naturally able to understand your concerns.
